This magnificent Hampton style home designed by Ryan Hoyt Design, is currently under construction on a fully underground serviced strata lot, with rear southern exposure and situated 2 blocks from the calm, protected bay of Wall Beach in Nanoose Bay on Vancouver Island.

Located on 0.347 hectares, this property is ideal for those who appreciate privacy and tranquility, yet within a short driving distance of all amenities and on a school bus route. The property has a protected covenant for the eagle tree in the background, providing a peaceful area to lounge in your back yard on the sun patio or under the covered patio. The oversized windows at the back are designed to capture all of the sun necessary to make this a bright and cheerful home.
